

Juliet Hooker

SPEAKER SHEET

Juliet Hooker is a leading thinker on democracy and race who has written extensively about racial politics in the United States and Latin America. She is currently the Royce Family Professor of Teaching Excellence in Political Science at Brown University. Before that she was a faculty member at the University of Texas at Austin. She is the author of multiple award-winning books, including Race and the Politics of Solidarity (Oxford, 2009), Theorizing Race in the Americas: Douglass, Sarmiento, Du Bois, and Vasconcelos (Oxford, 2017), Black Grief/White Grievance: The Politics of Loss (Princeton, 2023) and editor of Black and Indigenous Resistance in the Americas: From Multiculturalism to Racist Backlash. Theorizing Race in the Americas was awarded the American Political Science Association's 2018 Ralph Bunche Book Award for the best work in ethnic and cultural pluralism and the 2018 Best Book Award of the Race, Ethnicity, and Politics Section of the American Political Science Association. Hooker was born and raised on the Nicaraguan Afro-Caribbean Coast and obtained degrees from Cornell University (PhD; MPhil) and Williams College (BA).

Speaking Subjects:

- Race and Democracy in America
- Losing as a Key Democratic Virtue
- Challenges Facing US Democracy
- BLM and the History of Black Protest
- White Grievance and Racist Backlash
- Race and Racism in Latin America
- Black Maternal Grief from Harriet Jacobs to Erica Garner
- How to Foster Political solidarity
- How Monuments Speak: What should we do about racist monuments?
- Latinos and US Racial Politics
- Understanding the Critical Race Theory Panic

CONTACT:

Nanda Dyssou, Publicist
nanda@corioliscompany.com
(424)-226-6148